One of the most enjoyable picnics ever held in Idlewild park, was given Friday afternoon and evening by the students of the Newark Business College in honor of its twenty-second anniversary and its principal, S. L. Beene. No table could be found in the park stout enough to hold the variety of pies, cakes, fruits and other edibles which the gentler sex had prepared for the occasion. So the spread was made in primitive style and the earth fairly quaked with the large variety of the choicest edibles which were heaped upon it. The little squirrels came out of their dens and perched in wonderment at the jolly crowd feasting on the good things. In the evening the Casino entertainment was attended and was much enjoyed by all.

Among those who were instrumental in making the occasion a complete success were the Misses Emma C. Davies, Blanche Jones, Fannie De Frieze, Agnes Clark, Margaret Jones, Zoia Bebout, Bertha Jones, and Messrs. Earl R. Deyo, William E. Marfield, Clyde A. Hipple, Harley Young, Geo. De Frieze and Clay D. Belt.

LONG WALK FOR A CLAIM.

Girl's Pluck Rewarded by a Fine Quarter Section and Marriage Offers.

Probably as plucky a young woman as ever sought to take up a homestead claim has arrived at Seim, S. D., after a journey which many a man would have hesitated to undertake, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Attracted by the offer of free homes in Butte county, many people are rushing to Seim, some of them arriving on horseback, others in wagons and many of them on foot. A party of twenty, including Anna Nordstrom, a young Norwegian girl, started from Cashmere, the end of the railroad line, to walk to Seim, nearly 100 miles. The trail took them across rivers and over buttes. Their route lay through the reservation where the only food they could obtain was such as they could carry with them and their only shelter was the blue sky.

Several of the party were compelled to give up before the journey was completed, but Miss Nordstrom, though only a frail looking girl, stuck pluckily to her task and with eight others of the party succeeded in reaching Seim a few days ago.

So much admiration did the girl's pluck arouse in Seim that a fine quarter section has been selected for her on which a shack has been built and everything made ready for her entrance upon the life of a homesteader. The United States commissioner has offered to throw off his fees for her filings, and one of the newspapers has offered to print free of charge her final proof when the time comes to make them.

Miss Nordstrom already has received a dozen flattering offers of marriage, but she has refused them all, declaring that she intends to have a farm for herself before she thinks about matrimony.

CHICKEN THAT CAN TALK.

New Breed of Fowl Parrot and Part Guinea Hen.

After ten years of experimenting Clinton H. Willis, a rancher on the Monterey road at San Jose, Cal., has produced a chicken that can talk, says a special dispatch to the New York World. The fowl is the sixth generation of a cross between a parrot and a guinea hen, and in its every characteristic except the lower half of its bill and the arrangement of its toes the bird is a chicken.

The upper half of the bill is straight, like that of the guinea hen, while the lower part is clearly a parrot beak. Its toes are arranged two and two instead of three and one, as in the barnyard fowl. At present the chicken's vocabulary is limited to "Morning, Clint; chaw terbacker, Clint," and a swear word.

Wild Scramble.
"How many courses do they have?" whispered the city man who was about to take his first meal in the country boarding house.
"Only one," replied the old boarder, "and we call that the 'race course.'"
"Race course? That's a queer name."
"Not at all. You have to race or you don't get anything at all."—Houston Post.

SOFTNESS OF SEALSKIN.

Is Rivalled by Human Hair Where Dandruff is Eradicated.

Sealskin is admired the world over for its softness and glossiness, and yet the human hair is equally as soft and glossy when healthy; and the radical cause of all hair trouble is dandruff, which is caused by a pestiferous parasite that saps the vitality of the hair at its root. Newbro's Herpicide is the only preparation that is fatal to the dandruff germ. Without dandruff there is no falling hair, but a luxuriant growth of glossy, soft hair is certain. Scour the scalp won't cure dandruff. Kill the dandruff germ. Thousands of women owe their beautiful suits of hair to Newbro's Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. The logic of little things

Every little thing in the RAYMOND Piano is selected and installed with two ideas in view—human tone quality and durability.

"Is it the best?" is our first question, but we don't stop here — we severely test and prove or discard. Imported copper-wound bass strings are little things but they cost over three times as much as iron-wound or copper-plated.

Ebony sharps and genuine ivory keys are little things but they cost more than wood (painted black) and ivory seconds or imitation.

So on we could run the whole list from the smallest screw to the case, should space permit, but we rest assured that you catch the point.

The RAYMOND is the result of 51 years' experience in building instruments from the "best of everything."

You can go over its make-up with a fine-tooth comb and there is only one conclusion—the RAYMOND is the best piano investment in the world.

We guarantee it for ten years, but it will last a lifetime. Our 24-page Piano Book, illustrated in color, free on request.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Pe-ru-na should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Pe-ru-na on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics. One reason why Pe-ru-na has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind.

Pe-ru-na, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brookman, 318 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes: "I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Pe-ru-na. I would not be without it in the house now. I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Pe-ru-na for a cold, and my husband also takes Pe-ru-na. I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brookman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Pe-ru-na. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Pe-ru-na.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Pe-ru-na as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Pe-ru-na has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Pe-ru-na contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Pe-ru-na, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blighting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Pe-ru-na are sparing them their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Pe-ru-na from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Pe-ru-na with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Pe-ru-na, and we shall always praise Pe-ru-na and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

Mr. W. F. Doring, Mt. Vernon, Mo., writes:

"I have used Pe-ru-na to my entire satisfaction and am exceedingly well pleased with the results, having suffered greatly with catarrh of the stomach."

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 183 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) that I would try Pe-ru-na, and it worked like a charm.

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything."

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Pe-ru-na as his brother.

"I hope my testimonial may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough."

—Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, 424 Canal street, Reading, Pa., writes:

"I have Pe-ru-na in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup."

"I have introduced Pe-ru-na into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."

—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Pe-ru-na is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and remedy, many lives may be saved and thousands of chronic suffering cases of catarrh may be prevented.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick. Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Pe-ru-na is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Pe-ru-na is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Pe-ru-na is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Pe-ru-na quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body. It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Pe-ru-na is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Pe-ru-na has.

Mr. C. H. Hallowell, Antwerp, Ohio, writes:

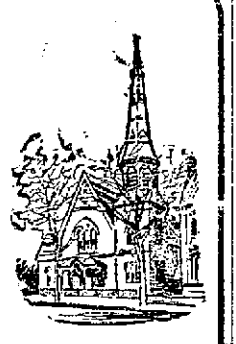

"My daughter Allie, after taking three bottles of your Pe-ru-na is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years standing. We have used Pe-ru-na as a general tonic as well as for catarrh and are well pleased with it and recommend it to anybody who has catarrh."

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem.

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Pe-ru-na. However, the large majority of mothers who use Pe-ru-na, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Pe-ru-na that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

Awful Shock. Barker's wife was out of town on a visit. When Barker opened his mail the other morning he found a neat little check and the following note:

"Dear John I enclose you will find $250. Please credit same to my 'confidence fund.' After four hours of deliberation I have reached the conclusion that I paid too much for my spring hat. Lovingly, Julia." Then Barker fainted. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

His Wife's Startling Discovery Nearly Causes a Panic.

"Women are so impulsive," said a man the other day. "I was awakened from a sound sleep one morning by my wife crying in an excited manner, 'Henry, Henry, come quick! I sprang from bed and ran to the head of the stairs and at once smelled smoke. Then I shouted, 'Take the baby, run to the corner and turn in an alarm.' I scrambled back to the room and snatched up some clothes, thinking I'd put them on later. Then I grabbed little Elizabeth, who was sleeping with me, under my arm and dashed downstairs. 'Where is it?' I exclaimed, running here and there to locate the fire. Behold, my wife was sitting in the dining room with the baby in her lap as calm as could be, with nothing out of the usual except a smug of joy on her face.

"Why don't you get out of here? Do you want to be burned alive? I shouted.

"Why, Henry, what in the world's the matter with you? Are you crazy?" "No, I'm not crazy. I want to know where the fire is."

"First! There is no fire," said she. "What did you yell fire for, then?" "I didn't."

"Well, what in thunder is it then?" "Why, Charlotte has a tooth."

"Goodness! I thought the house was on fire!"

"How stupid!" remarked my wife coolly as she placed the baby in her high chair and started for the kitchen. "Why don't you put Elizabeth down? Do you intend to carry her under your arm all day? And you had better get dressed too. Breakfast is almost ready."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rings Round Eyes

The ills peculiar to women, take different forms. Some ladies suffer, every month, from dark rings round their eyes, blotches on their skin and tired feeling. Others suffer agonies of pain, that words can hardly express. Whatever the symptoms, remember there is one medicine that will go beyond mere symptoms, and act on the cause of their troubles, the weakened womanly organs.

One Mr. Asher, Newark's most successful pitcher, was again successful Friday against the Sharon team and allowed them but six hits in the game which went the full nine innings. By hard hitting and real inside baseball, the Newark team scored seven runs against three for the visiting delegation and the local bugs went home happy.

One Mr. Burwell, one of Sharon's best sidewheelers, was slated by the Medicine Men to be hurled at the Newark team. The game was soon over and after Newark had scored three runs in the second and third innings, the beckoning finger was seen under the Sharon bench cover, and Burwell came in, while one Mr. Stecher, another good man, was sent in to stop the Molders' winning streak.

It was a pretty big job for Mr. Stecher but he looked as though he did not realize it. He soon came to realize, however, that it takes a good man to hit a crimp in the scoring machine of the locals.

When Mr. Stecher opened up on the Molders, his team had as many runs as we had and we had as many as they. Ed Asher saw the fresh victim coming onto the mound, and he straightaway decided that he would finish him on the spot and thereafter the Three S aggregation got but two things that looked like hits. All this time the bunch behind Mr. Asher was pounding away at the delivery of our friend Stecher and a total of eight bingles was netted off his benders.

Just before the game opened, a large package was delivered to the umpires, and Mr. Latham got things a little mixed and told Mr. Steinberg to present the package to the home club. This was done and when the package was opened two boxes of cigars were found, but they were not for the Newark players, but for the umpires themselves, and they were too modest to correct the error.

Col. M. M. Gillett made the present in grateful appreciation for the earnest efforts of the umpires in the present series, not as a method of buying their favors, but because the umpires are too frequently overlooked when compliments are being passed. President Norton's action in firing and suspending Manager Patterson, put the stamp of approval on the action of Latham and Steinberg. Both men have done good work in this series and Latham, when working alone and is not on one of his funny spells, is as good as they make 'em.

Col. Gillett also announced that he would give $5 in gold to the first Newark player making a home run. The money was given in the hands of Manager Murrath.

After the speeches were made and the ground rules explained explicitly for the benefit of Mr. Patterson, the game was opened. Asher did not work the best early in the game, and three runs were registered off his delivery in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

After that he tightened up and the Sharon bunch could not fathom his delivery for anything that resembled a hit, except in two cases. Kerr singled in the 7th and Bissell singled in the 8th, both men dying on the cushions.

Newark started their hard hitting in the first inning when Youngster Smith, the local understudy of Irvy Whittier, smashed out a triple to the right field. This came after two men were out though, and Smitty died on third.

In the second, Haval singled to left field and took second and third on Griffin's error. Griff tried to catch him napping off third and heaved to Paddy Green. The ball hit Haval's "coco" and caromed off into left field. Haval came home.

In the third we counted two. Abbott singled and Snyder got to first on Green's error, taking second on the over-throw. Abbott also advanced two bases and rested on third. Smith, who had been out on the first, was called to Green and Schweitzer got the squeeze signal and bunted nicely. Snyder was playing close to third and scored with Abbott on the punt. Haval singled and stole second but Murray's low fly to right was pulled down by Mathay.

We counted there more in the fifth. Abbott opened with a single again, Snyder sacrificed and Smith singled and stole second. Schweitzer was again called upon for the squeeze and bunted successfully. This time the ball got past Sellers on first and rolled where the field was unguarded and both men came home. Haval singled and Murray doubled, scoring the Cheese Man. Murray went to second and Haval tried to reach third, but Bissell made a nice throw to Green and caught "Zeke."

Our seventh run was counted in the seventh frame when Snyder singled and took second on Bissell's error. Smith singled and scored Lefty, took second on the fielding of the ball to the plate and went to third on a passed ball. Schweitzer, Haval and Murray went out in order and the scoring was stopped. EHMAN IS SULKY

Manager East gave "Buff" Ehman a calling, and threatened the big fellow with dire things if he didn't pitch ball. "Buff" has been sulking for several weeks and acting in more ways than one like a petted and pampered child. It all started when Captain East assigned him to duty on the turnstile, as is the custom with pitchers on the day following a game in which they worked. Ehman would not obey, preferring to sit on the bench, and he's been sulky ever since.

CHAMP'S TEAM IS IN TOWN—WILL PLAY FIVE GAMES

The Youngstown team is in town. They are here to play the five hardest games they will have this season. The winning of these games means more to Youngstown than it does to Newark, and they will fight to the last ditch for every one of them.

Newark needs these games for special reasons. It has much to do with the local club's chances for climbing into first position. Youngstown will do everything in their power to keep Newark down where she now stands.

To win these games the Newark team needs the attendance of every local fan. They started out well in today's game by turning out in large numbers, for the Saturday games, and every man in the city should be on hand tomorrow for the third game of the series.

Then don't forget that pair of games Monday afternoon. Youngstown plays two Monday afternoon. The first will start at 2 o'clock. The second ten minutes after the first has finished. Will you be there?

Don't get the mistaken idea that there are two Sunday. There will be but one. But you'll get your money's worth in that one game. Let's see you out and hear you root.

MY SANCTUM.

You can talk of pretty bedrooms and parlors superior.
Whose glories are concealed in coverlets;
You can prate of cozy corners, where you can lie snug,
For luxuries like these I've no regrets,
For there's a little sanctum which is very near the roof.
Devoted to my literary and pen,
Where from domestic troubles I can always keep aloof.
I call it quite fittingly my den.

I know it is untidy, but it's very snug at that;
It's dusty, and the curtains smell of smoke,
I never hear a mouse, nor allow no common chat,
While the divine afflatus I invoke.
The walls are hung with pictures which typify an art.
Quite equal to the usual mortal's ken,
And when from care and bother I like to be apart,
I just retire into my little den.

It has no bars, although they say that I am like a bear,
When I have turned the key inside the lock;
There is no "open sesame," somehow I never hear,
However hard outsiders choose to knock.
For they may chafe, and they may fret—I do not care a cent—
And they may bless the selfish race of men,
I have no use for friend or foe; I'm perfectly content;
I'm dead to all the world when in my den.
—La Touche Hancock in New York Press.

His Charming Mark.
Viscount Annon, the Earl of Winton's son, was being interviewed in New York about clothes. On this subject, however, the young man refused to talk.

"You," he said, "are the sixth reporter to talk to me today. I think you reporters are too persistent. You give me no rest. Your mind me of a friend of mine at Oxford who used to like to drink a mug of ale at the Miter. He was always very particular about having his own way."

"At the Miter one evening he said to the barmaid: 'A mug of Bass, Xollie, and be careful to draw it in my own pewter. Make no mistake.'"

"No fear of making a mistake about your powder, sir," the barmaid answered. "I can tell it with ease."

"How so?" my friend asked.
"By the handle," said the barmaid. "It's always warm."—Washington Star.

Mother Love.
"Look, Arthur! That is our baby." "How do you know?" "I recognize the back of our nurse."—Wahre Jacob.

The Law's Delay.
Shortly after Congressman Maddox of Georgia had turned over part of his law practice to his son the young man came into the office with a flushed, triumphant face.

"Pap," he began, "you know that Wilkins case you've been trying for the last ten years?"

The congressman nodded. "Well," said the young man, "I've settled it!"

"Settled it?" ejaculated his father. "Settled it! Why, my boy, I gave you that case as an annuity!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Provoking.
"John," said Mrs. Stubb after supper, "I wish you would put this picture in a good position on the wall."

"Oh, hang it!" blurted Mr. Stubb, who was reading up the baseball prospects for 1907.

Mrs. Stubb smiled sweetly. "How did you guess it, dear? That is just what I should have said in the first place—hang it!"—Detroit Tribune.

Points of Difference.
"There's a great difference in autos." "In what way?"

"Well, I think my neighbor's $2,000 car is infinitely superior to the $400 car of the man farther down the street."

"In what way?" "My neighbor often takes me for a ride in his car."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Wise Old Gentleman.
"But, pap," said the astonished youth, "why in the world should you present me with a watch covered with rubies?"

"Why, my boy," replied the father, "I hear that you 'sneak' your watches so often I wanted to make this one waterproof!"—New York World.

Her Reasons.
Elizabeth, aged four, had been chided for her naughtiness by her mother, who concluded her reproof by asking, "Why can't you be nice, like the little Smith girls?"

Like a flash the little one came back with, "Well, their whole family is nicer than ours!"—Motherhood.

Helpful Suggestion.
"I can't decide," she said to the milliner, "I just don't know what to do about a hat. I'm of two minds about it."

"Then take two hats," suggested the milliner, "and please both minds."—Judge.

TELEGRAPHERS VS. B. & O. CLERKS

HIG GAME AT IDLEWILDE PARK SUNDAY WHEN TWO DEPARTMENTS CLASH.

Knight of the Key Will Endeavor To Show the Pencil-pushers How To Play Ball.

There is something doing for next Sunday at Idlewilde park. The B. & O. clerks and the telegraphers have arranged a ball game for that day and it will be a hummer. Look what the telegraphers say about it.

"A much-mooted question is at last to be settled through the medium of the great national game, viz., the supremacy of the 'knights of the key' over the 'pencil-pushers,' from the motive power offices. What? Don't understand? Well, the B. & O. telegraph operators are going to demonstrate to the clerks the utility of ever going against the inhabitants of the telegraph world. As we annihilate distance with the key so we do with the bat, when meeting the ball it goes sailing out towards 'Central City.' This game is to be played Sunday, June 23, at Idlewilde park."

The pencil-pushers come back something like this:

"Sunday, June 23, will be a long-to-be-remembered day for the B. & O. operators. Down in the annals of that honorable body will go the sad tale of blasted hopes, of inglorious defeat, the same to be administered by the denizens of the motive power office, the clerks. While we concede that the telegraph

Four More Days For Work to Win—Interest in the Big Contest is Increasing.

The Advocate presents herewith portraits of twenty-two of the twenty-nine candidates in the great Jamestown Exposition - Washington - New York contest which is rapidly coming to a close. It is with regret that the paper cannot present the likeness of the remaining contestants—Misses Goff, Stare, Neff, Botts, Varner, Willey and Rosebrough—as no photographs were provided.

When this contest was inaugurated on April 19, neither The Advocate nor any of the contestants imagined that it would reach its present immense proportions and nobody would have predicted that at the beginning of the closing week the contestants would be so evenly matched.

More than 800,000 votes have been cast and the four big days of the contest remain. What will happen between this date and next Thursday night, June 27, at 10 o'clock, nobody can tell, but the contestants are busy as can be and their friends are fully as much interested. Each one is trying, by all fair means to, win and their friends are doing their part, too. Do not imagine that because a contestant in tonight's count is not at the head of the list that she is not "in it" for that very contestant may have a bundle of special coupons ready to drop into the ballot box before the close. If you have promised to help a candidate, do it now no matter what her published standing may be.

One contestant tells of a person who had promised her a year's subscription, but when she went for it the subscription had been given to another young lady and the explanation was offered that she thought because this candidate was not leading that she had virtually dropped out of the race! Don't believe it. Some surprises may come yet. One week ago today 107,000 votes were cast, and changes among several of the leaders were made. Another such vote or so may change the relative standing again. Pick your candidate and then vote for her. Your vote may be the decisive one.

WHO WILL NAME PARTY'S CHAPERON?

As the big contest draws to a close interest naturally grows. Many are now wondering which one of the 29 candidates will get the largest total vote. That fortunate young woman will name the chaperon and will not only enjoy the pleasures of Washington and the Exposition, but will go with the chaperon for a two day trip to New York.

EXHIBITS IN GOVERNMENT BUILDING AT THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

Norfolk, Va., June 22—As one of the branches of the treasury department, the revenue cutter service makes an exhibit in the space allotted to it on the waterfront side of the government building "A." This exhibit includes a series of models of type of revenue cutters from the early sailing vessel class, with its one muzzle loading gun, to the modern type of steam propeller, with rapid fire guns. A group of paintings, showing various features of the work of the service in peace and war, adds color and interest to the exhibit. A system of track charts, including photographs of the cutters and embracing the Alaskan and insular possessions, shows the wide range of operations of the service. Other features of the exhibit are attractive pictures in water-colors of the uniform of the officers and men, and photographic views of the cadets at their drill, and academic work at the school of instruction. The types of ordnance used on the revenue cutters are shown in the guns, mounted in the space on cage stands such as a 6 in. on board ship, and a rack of small arms shows the rifles and revolvers that are used. Within a few days there will be installed a working model of a triple-expansion engine, showing propeller shafts and screw propeller, which will add to the operation, which will add to the exhibit.

A detail of men and officers from the various revenue cutter service are on duty in this space to explain to visitors this most interesting exhibit.

WHAT THE ADVOCATE PROPOSES TO DO FOR WINNING CANDIDATES

Coupons Now Issued Are Good Until Close of Contest Next Thursday Night.

Sometime in July the Advocate will have as its guests on a delightful Eastern trip ten young ladies besides the chaperon, who will be selected by the contestant receiving the biggest vote.

The party will travel in a Pullman train to Washington, take in the sights of the National Capital, and then have an all day ride on an ocean steamer to the Exposition City, where one solid week will be passed in sight seeing. The young women will be accompanied by representatives of this paper who will look after their welfare. The party will stop at first class hotels and will enjoy all of the pleasure such a trip affords.

After the Exposition trip is over one of the party accompanied by her chaperon will proceed to New York, there to see the sights of the great city.

From the start to the return every cent of expense will be paid by the Advocate.

The selection of the Advocate's guests is left to readers of this paper and to the friends of the 29 candidates.

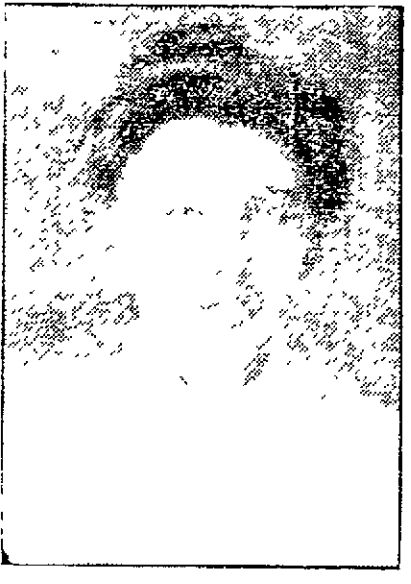

The newspaper coupons, each worth one vote, will not be printed after Tuesday, June 25, but special ballots good for 100, 500 or 1,000 votes, will be issued up to the close of the contest, June 27. Masonic.

Monday night Warren Chapter, No. 6, R. A. M., conferred the master mason's degree on three candidates, and on Monday night the past and most excellent degrees will be conferred on a class of six.

At a meeting of Acme Lodge, No. 554, F. & A. M., held on Thursday night the F. A. degree was conferred on four candidates, and at the meeting to be held on Thursday night next, there will be work in the fellowcraft degree.

At the regular meeting of Newark lodge, No. 97, F. & A. M., held on Friday night, there was work in the master's degree.

The regular convocation of St. Luke's Commandery, No. 31, Knights Templar, will be held on Tuesday night on which occasion officers for the ensuing term will be elected.

Knights of Pythias.

There was a splendid attendance at the meeting of Roland Lodge, No. 365, Knights of Pythias, on Tuesday evening, which occasion there was work in the knight rank. Quite a number of visitors were in attendance at the meeting, a number from Granville being present.

Odd Fellows.

At the meeting of Newark Lodge, 623, I. O. O. F., held on Monday night, the first degree was conferred on two candidates and the third degree on one candidate.

Newark Lodge No. 625, I. O. O. F., had a large attendance Monday night. The first degree was conferred on two candidates in a very impressive manner. We want every Odd Fellow in the city to come to the hall on Monday night. The second degree will be conferred on a number of candidates. Come and see the new features in the degree.

The regular meeting of Mt. Olive Encampment, No. 12, I. O. O. F., was held in Thursday night, when there was work in the golden rule and royal purple degrees.

The Rebekah's at their meeting on last Tuesday night conferred the Rebekah degree on Misses Gola Gallagher and Lillian Cheek. The work was exemplified in a pleasing manner by the degree staff. There was a large attendance, among them being Mrs. Perry Hoover of Mt. Vernon. After the work all retired to the dining room where ice cream and cake were served.—Johnstown Independent.

A large number of Odd Fellows will go to Frazersburg Sunday to attend memorial services. Train will leave at 12:40 and return at 6 p. m. All Odd Fellows are invited to go.

Modern Woodmen.

At the regular meeting of Cedar Camp, No. 4727, M. W. of A., held on Monday night, all officers were in their stations and fifty-seven members were present. Five applications for beneficial membership were voted upon and elected to membership. The escort retired and found three candidates in waiting, who were adopted as members of Cedar Camp. Neighbor O. B. Young was reported as being very sick. Neighbor F. L. Miller of Akron Camp, No. 4334, of Akron, Ohio, was also reported as being sick. After the regular order of business was over the meeting closed without form and was turned over to the Forester team for practice. Neighbor A. S. Mitchell was appointed as special auditor to assist the managers audit the books of the clock and banker of Cedar Camp. Considerable complaint has been made by the members of Cedar Camp that they do not receive the official paper. This matter has been sifted down and the cause is that a great many of the neighbors have moved and changed their address and have failed to leave their new address with the clerk and the paper still comes to the old address. Now neighbors, if you do not receive the official paper, the Modern Woodman, you should make it your business to leave your correct address with the clerk, who will receive your paper every month. They do not know at the head office whether a member has changed his address or not, and the paper is sent to the neighbors last post office address until notified that there has been a change of address. So neighbors, you who do not receive your paper, will confer a favor upon yourselves as well as the clerk of your camp if you will leave your correct post office address with the clerk the next time you are in to pay your dues. At the next regular meeting on next Monday night, there will be candidates to be initiated and a good turnout of the members is desired.

dered, the principal speakers of the evening being Dr. H. A. Warner of Topeka, Kas., the founder of the order, who gave an interesting account of the organization and development from 11 members to the present membership of nearly 80,000. The reserve fund of nearly a million dollars was referred to by the doctor as the solid foundation of security on which the order rests. Addresses were also made by Dr. I. N. Palmer, Hon. I. S. Mocker, national trustee, and President S. B. Smith. The musical numbers were excellent and the following Newark artists furnished that part of the program: Prof. W. W. Flora, Mrs. Jessie King Smith, Master Fritz Drake and the Council orchestra. After the program ice cream, cake and lemonade were served the guests in the banquet room and all present enjoyed the mystic maze of the dance until midnight.

Too much credit cannot be given the social committee, which planned and successfully carried out the evening program, consisting of the following members: Mrs. Maggie Long, Mrs. Mary Stelle and E. V. McCament.

National Deputy Mackey will remain in Newark for a few days and boost the membership of Golden Rod Council.

RAILWAY AFFAIRS

B. & O. Creates New Positions.

Thomas Fitzgerald, general manager of the B. & O. railroad, has just issued circulars announcing the promotion of J. H. Rosenstock, formerly general yardmaster at New Castle Junction, Pa., and John Miland, formerly general yardmaster at Cumberland, Md., to inspectors of yards. The position of inspector of yards is a new one and the inspectors will have jurisdiction over all yards on the B. & O. system. They will make periodical trips to the different terminals and yards and look after the movement of cars. It is believed that a more prompt handling of freight will thus be effected which will prevent a congestion of traffic.

Official announcement is also made of the appointment of J. K. Graham, formerly agent at Wheeling, W. Va., and C. L. Johnson, formerly agent at Columbus to the position of inspectors of station service. This is also a new position and the inspectors will have charge of the operation of all stations on the B. & O.

The inspectors of yards and inspectors of stations will report to the general manager direct and the appointment become effective at once.

Mr. Murrell in Cambridge.

J. R. Murrell of Newark, was the guest of R. L. Vernon and family on North Fourth street Thursday. Mr. Murrell enjoys the distinction of being the oldest B. & O. employee on this division of the road. He was a passenger brakeman for 22 years and is now on the retired list of the employees of that road. He will be 67 years of age Thursday of next week, but does not show his age. He is also a veteran of the Civil war.—Cambridge Jeffersonian.

French Government Sustained By the Chamber of Deputies.

Danger of Civil War Has Not Disappeared, and the Ministry Will Take No Chances—Mutinous Soldiers Surrender to Their Commander—Situation in Southern France.

Paris, June 22.—Fortified by a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies and by the receipt of assurances from its representatives on the spot that the government forces gradually are gaining the ascendancy throughout the rebellious departments in the south of France, the ministers are less pessimistic and incline to the belief that affairs of the winegrowing region are entering a less threatening phase.

The mutiny and desertion from Beziers of a battalion of the Seventeenth regiment, followed by circumstantial stories of similar defections at other garrisons, but which later turned out untrue, caused widespread alarm, not only in official circles but throughout the entire country. The war office lost no time in ordering overwhelming numbers of fresh troops to the scene, and in the course of the day fully a score of regiments of all arms were dispatched to Narbonne, Montpellier, Besiers and other centers, or were held in readiness for instantaneous departure. Just before the close of the chamber of deputies Premier Clemenceau was able to announce the surrender of the mutinous battalions of the Seventeenth regiment.

It is realized on all sides that the danger of civil war by no means has completely disappeared, but those in authority seem satisfied with the progress made toward the repression of anarchy. The ministers intend to take no chances. Martial law is now in force throughout the whole of the disturbed area, and will be maintained. Premier Clemenceau announced, until the sovereignty of the law is assured and normal civic life can be resumed.

Premier Clemenceau lost no time in imparting to the deputies the news from Narbonne, adding to the information already published the fact that more than 100 soldiers were wounded in the fighting with the rioters. The latter, he said, had disappeared from the streets. The peasants from the surrounding villages, terrified at the shooting, took the first trains for their homes. Then, amid impressive silence, the premier gave the official version of the mutiny of the battalion of the Seventeenth infantry at Agde, and its march to Beziers. The premier added that he could not listen to any proposition for the conditional surrender of the mutineers, as it would be a most fatal move for the government to capitulate to the soldiery. He concluded with demanding a vote of confidence in the government, so that the ministers could carry out in the name of the chamber the work of repression, on which in the future much depended. The opposition deputies fiercely attacked the government, accusing the ministers of sending agents to stir up the populace in the south, asserting that the cuirassiers acted like Cossacks, that troops fired with but little provocation and without notification, and that women and children had been slaughtered, and insisted that the release of M. Ferroul, formerly mayor of Narbonne, would alone restore calm. Otherwise, one of the speakers said, "the bloody rioting of today will be the revolution of tomorrow." Former Minister of Commerce Millerand's denunciation of M. Clemenceau was particularly violent.

The present revolt, which began in a winegrowers' strike, is for the purpose of compelling the government to pass laws which will make the manufacture and sale of adulterated wine illegal. Within recent years adulterations have so cheapened wines that the people of the southern provinces, from the owner of the vineyard to the wooden-shoed peasant toiling in the heat, are unable to dispose of their products at a living profit.

Surrender of Mutineers.
Beziers, France, June 22.—Accompanied only by a staff officer and an orderly, General Bailloud arrived here and approached the mutineers of the Seventeenth regiment, exhorting them to return by rail to Agde. He promised the men that they would be treated with all possible leniency. After a slight hesitation the soldiers surrendered their rifles and ammunition and promised to return to their quarters.

Conspiracy Charged.
Chicago, June 22.—Thomas E. Walsh and Arthur B. Bonhomme, employees of Swift & Company at the stockyards, were arrested on charges of conspiracy to violate the government civil service laws. It is alleged that Bonhomme passed a civil service examination in order to obtain for Walsh a position as federal meat inspector. Bonhomme was released on bonds, but Walsh was unable to give bail and was taken to the county jail.

AUTOMOBILE KILLS A MARCHIONESS

Naples, June 22.—It was learned that the woman killed when the automobile containing Marquis Ferrara, the Duke De La Regina and two guests went into a ravine near Calanella with fatal results to the entire party, was the Marchioness Russ of the Gerini family of Florence. The marchioness was a cousin of Prince Scipione Borghese, who is now leading in the automobile race from Peking to Paris. King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena were personal friends of those killed.

ATTEMPTS MADE TO REMOVE AOKI BUT HE WILL STAY

Tokyo, June 22.—While there is a unanimity of opinion here that Ambassador Aoki is unfitted for his present position at Washington and it is certain that attempts have been made to remove him, he has a very powerful political support, and, moreover, being the senior of Viscount Hayashi, the foreign minister in the diplomatic service, it would be a very delicate matter for the latter to recall him. Unless strong proof can be furnished that Ambassador Aoki is persona non grata at Washington, it is not likely that Viscount Hayashi will take the initiative in removing him from the post.

Concerted Political Action Urged.
Denver, June 22.—The convention of the Western Federation of Miners adopted the first five sections of the proposed new preamble of the constitution and held the six section on the table. This section is designed to make the federation the mining department of the Industrial Workers of the World. The fifth section of the preamble is considered to pledge the federation to Socialism. It reads: "We hold that industrial union and the concerted political action of all wage-workers is the only method of attaining this end," referring to the "emancipation" of the working classes.

Wiped Out Indian Village.
Guaymas, Mexico, June 22.—Word has just reached Colonel Alberto, adjutant military chief, that troops of the national guard under Francisco Cota Wednesday attacked and wiped out a village of 50 Indians north of Ortiz, in the Cerro De Las Lajas. Six Yaquis were killed, the troops escaping with one man wounded. A number of prisoners were taken and various supplies confiscated.

Inquiry Into Mutiny.
Kiev, June 22.—The report of the execution of the mutineers has not been confirmed. As the first result of the investigation into the mutiny the commander and other officers of the mutinous battalion have already been removed and the noncommissioned officers have been assigned to other battalions.

ALFRED SUTRO URGES COPYRIGHT REFORM HERE.

MR. ALFRED SUTRO.

LONDON, June 22.—Alfred Sutro, as the author of the sensational piece of the season, "John Gladie's Honor," is just now very much before the public. He is perhaps the most popular playwright of today. "I am sorry to say," said Mr. Sutro in reply to a question, "that I do not know very much technically about international copyright. I have, like other authors, had my earlier works stolen, and I, like all other authors, would gladly see a reform and better protection for literary property."

Socialists' Manifesto.
St. Petersburg, June 22.—A separate manifesto was issued by the national Socialists and circulated in the city. It is a colorless document of a thousand words, describing the duma's relations with the government. Its most effective phrase characterizes the session of the duma as "a hundred days of captivity." The document closes with the adage that every nation deserves the kind of government it tolerates, but the document does not make any definite imperative recommendation.

Killed His Wife.
Linton, Ind., June 22.—G. R. Beasley, a prominent resident of this place, shot and instantly killed his wife at their home here. He recently sued his wife for divorce, and it is supposed that brooding over his domestic troubles temporarily unbalanced him. He was immediately arrested and taken to jail. He is a brother of A. M. Beasley, prominent in Indiana political circles.

LUMBER AGENT PRESENTED VOUCHERS FOR POLES NOT DELIVERED.

Murderer Sentenced to Death—Abduction Charges—Principal Ohio News Paragraphed.

Columbus, O., June 22.—W. B. Moore, a lumber agent, was found guilty by a jury of defrauding the city by presenting vouchers for poles or the city electric lighting plant which were never delivered. An alleged confession by Moore, in which he had divided $4,000 obtained by means of false vouchers with William Wilcox, former superintendent of the city lighting plant, was not admitted at the trial. It was shown, however, that Moore had collected $622 for 75 electric light poles which were never delivered. Wilcox, who is also under indictment, will be tried next.

Father Charges Abduction.
Cincinnati, O., June 22.—The simultaneous disappearance of Christian Zimmerman, principal of German in the public schools, and Elsie Kraft, a pretty 16-year-old girl, has led the father of the girl to swear out warrants, one for the girl, the other for Zimmerman, whom he charges with abduction. No trace can be found of either, and it is believed that they have started for Cuba.

Mrs. Thacker was shot by her son-in-law, Charles Shafer, who also killed his wife and young son, whose body he tried to burn, and then committed suicide rather than be caught. Shafer's act followed the filing of a divorce suit by his wife.

THE PROPOSITION IS UP TO TAFT

Secretary Will Not Render a Decision in Jesuit Matter at the Present Time.

St. Louis, June 22.—Secretary Taft arrived from Kansas City, en route to Washington. During his stay of two hours Festus J. Wade was in conference with him relative to the dispute between the Philippine government and the Jesuit Fathers concerning the ownership of $8,000,000 worth of property in the Philippine Islands. Mr. Wade, who is president of the Mercantile Trust company, represents Archbishop Harty of Manila in endeavoring to secure a settlement of the dispute. Secretary Taft stated after the conference with Mr. Wade that he would not render decision until after his return to Washington.

Havana, June 22.—Congressman Govein, editor of El Mundo, cabled Secretary Taft protesting against the purchase of the Cuban church property, including the old customs house, for $2,000,000, the option on which will expire June 30. He advocates the restoration of the property to the church and the construction of new buildings, thereby retaining the money in the country and giving employment to Cuban labor.

TENNESSEE MAN WANTS ROOSEVELT

Washington, June 22.—Representative Nathan W. Hale (Rep.) of the Second Congressional district of Tennessee, declared in favor of the election of President Roosevelt for another term. He said that if again nominated Mr. Roosevelt would carry several southern states, as the country wanted him to have an opportunity to finish the Panama canal and the mighty reforms and measures for which he stands. It would be a national calamity to make a change at this time.

Ministers as Witnesses.
Chattanooga, Tenn., June 22.—At the session of the contempt case of Sheriff Shipps, it was decided that Monday next all the ministers of Chattanooga will be called as witnesses. The object in calling the preachers is to determine whether or not the possible lynching of Ed Johnson was discussed in the meeting of the pastors' association. The session was given over to the hearing of character witnesses in the cases of three of Sheriff Shipps' deputies, namely, Joseph Clark, Matt Galloway and Marion Perkins. All witnesses gave them exceptionally clean records.

DOUBT SINCERITY OF THE IRISH

Dublin, June 22.—The Sinn Fein society, at an executive meeting, condemned the United Irish league directory's resolutions passed June 20 as a surrender of Ireland's claim for a sovereign parliament, as showing no intention to substitute action for declaration, and urging the members of the league not to be duped into believing the proposed agitation the directory advocates is anything except a device to enable the Irish members of the house of commons to remain a wing of the British Liberal party.

SENATOR FORAKER PRAISES THE LAW OF SENATOR ELKINS

Put-In-Bay, O., June 22.—Purely business sessions of the National Association of Freight Traffic Agents closed with addresses by Senator Foraker and Harvey D. Goulder of Cleveland. Senator Foraker was met at Sandusky by a delegation of 25 officers and members of the association and was given a rousing reception, both on arrival on the island and in the convention hall. After giving the history of railroading from the civil war the speaker illustrated the natural development of the rebate system as competition increased. He gave a history of the Elkins bill, which he defended as a complete remedy when fully enforced for all evils of the rebate system. He defended his opposition to the Hepburn bill on the triple grounds that it was unnecessary on account of the existence of the Elkins bill; that it was opposed to the principles of the constitution of the United States, and that it was impolitic to permit any seven men in Washington or elsewhere to fix railroad rates.

TARIFF REVISION

Burton Says Republicans Must Give Early Attention to It.
Chicago, June 22.—The first annual banquet of the United States Senate of Aurora, an organization composed of prominent business men of that place and conducted in a manner similar to that of the senate at Washington, was held here. Speeches were made by Speaker Cannon, Senator Hopkins and Congressman Burton of Ohio, who spoke to the toast, "The Republican Party." "Republicans," said Mr. Burton, "must give early attention to revision of the tariff; the time is already ripe. Yet such revisions should not be made in disregard of the benefits of protection or its most salutary effect in the development of our country."

MRS. EDDY'S COUSIN

Withdraws as Plaintiff From Suit Against Christian Science Leader.

Concord, N. H., June 22.—Fred W. Baker of Epsom, N. H., a second cousin of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, filed in the superior court here his withdrawal as one of the "next friends" plaintiffs in the suit for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property. He withdraws on the ground that others nearer of kin than he to Mrs. Eddy are acting as plaintiffs, and that his presence among them is unnecessary. Counsel for the "next friends" also filed several documents, one being a request that Judge Chamberlain make regulation on the trustees of Mrs. Eddy's estate for the necessary funds to carry on the suit brought by the "next friends."

Dun's Trade Review.

New York, June 22.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly review of trade says: Weather conditions throughout the country are reported as seasonable for the first time in several months, and the response is immediate in all branches of business, while crop prospects have improved greatly, although there still remains much lost ground to be regained. With scarcely an exception the week's news is encouraging, especially from the west. Confidence grows with the crops and orders come forward to the leading centers for large fall and winter shipments of all classes of merchandise. Most manufacturers are fully occupied on old contracts, and there is little prospect of much idle machinery in the near future, except on account of the customary midsummer repairs and inventories.

Robert Pitcairn, one of the oldest and best known railroad men in the country, was run down by a bicycle rider at Pittsburg and internally injured.

Stricken with fear by a bolt of lightning which struck in the yard of the county prison at Pottsville, Pa., Charles Wawson, arrested on the charge of killing his sweetheart, confessed that he had shot the girl because she had refused to marry him.

SHORT BLASTS FROM WHISTLE

Telegraphers Heed the Signal and Desert Their Keys.

STRIKE ON AT SAN FRANCISCO

Men Demand an Increase of Wages and Recognition of the Union. Meeting of National Executive Board to Be Called—Agreement Reached in New York.

San Francisco, June 22.—The telegraph operators employed by Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies left their keys and walked out of the offices. Three short blasts from a police whistle gave the signal, and at the sound the operators arose from the tables, put on their coats and quit their jobs.

About 170 men are employed by the Western Union and 60 by the Postal. The operators in San Francisco and Oakland were dissatisfied with the letter from President Clowry of the Western Union, and insisted that their demands for a 25 per cent increase in wages should be granted. President Small of the Commercial Telegraphers' union arrived here and, after considering the situation, ordered the strike unless increase of pay was granted. Both the Western Union and Postal officials declined to grant the increase or to consult with the union. They expressed their willingness to consider and act on any advances presented by their employees as individuals, but this has not satisfied the men, and the walkout resulted.

The superintendents of both companies have nothing to say about the strike. They state that the matter will have to be adjusted in New York, and have simply issued notice to the public that messages will be accepted subject to indefinite delay. President Small of the union will remain here to advise the strikers. As long as an attempt is not made to bring in operators from outside points, the strike will be purely local from San Francisco and Oakland. If, however, the company attempts to bring in outside men, operators in other cities will be called out.

National Board to Meet.

New York, June 22.—The strike of the Western Union and Postal telegraphers at San Francisco came as a surprise to these companies, following as it did so close on the supposed settlement of the differences through Commissioner of Labor N. H. and the subsequent statements by President Clowry of the Western Union and E. J. Nally, general manager of the Postal company. Evidently President Small had not seen the report of the settlement when he announced that San Francisco operators would quit work. The repudiation of the settlement by President Small therefore caused surprise to the union officials in this city, and it was intimated that the national executive board would be called together immediately to consider that official's action.

ENJOIN STRIKERS IN MICHIGAN

Detroit, Mich., June 22.—As a climax to the numerous acts of violence and rioting which have resulted from the strike which has been in progress for the past month of 1,000 molders, machinists and metal polishers in 12 different manufactories of the city, a blanket injunction was issued by the circuit court, restraining the metal polishers' union and 200 specified individuals from interfering in any way with workers at any of the plants affected by the strike. The 14 manufacturing plants joined in the petition for injunctions.

Lid On Opium Dens.

Shanghai, June 22.—In accordance with the terms of an imperial edict just issued, the opium dens in the native portion of this city were closed, but in spite of the edict opium is still sold everywhere. There were no disturbances owing to elaborate official precautions. The foreign volunteers were held in readiness in the foreign settlement in case of emergency. The city is quiet.

Racing Stables Burned.

New York, June 22.—Fire destroyed stables No. 17, 18, 19 and 20 at the Metropolitan race track, Jamaica. A hundred or more horses were in the buildings when the blaze was discovered. All were taken out without having suffered harm.

Residence Levelled.

Coffeyville, Kan., June 22.—A tornado at Seminole, six miles south of this city, demolished the house of A. Q. Lett, a farmer, and fatally injured two of his young children. The storm did no other damage, as far as known.

A census of Egypt is being taken. In 1897 the population was less than ten millions, and now it is thought to be over thirteen million.

M. B. Melick, driver, of 54 West Church street, Newark, O., says:

"For a long time I was suffering from a constant sickening pain in the small of the back and in the hips. Any quick movement was followed by sharp darting twinges that caught me suddenly and almost doubled me up. I suffered so from pains through the hips that at times I was almost laid up. Liniments and hop applications had little effect on it and I began using various medicines recommended for such troubles. I had little success until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Craton's drug store. It was the only remedy that really found the right spot. It banished my troubles in time, and I have had no return of any symptom of kidney complaint since using it."

THE OHIO SENATORS

Return Home to Remain Until After November Election.

HERRICK WANTS ON BIG FOUR

Foraker's Speech at Wilberforce Most Recent Event of Political Interest in Ohio—Editors to Meet at Cedar Point—Teachers to Meet at Put-In-Bay—State Affairs.

Columbus, O., June 22. — Senator Foraker's speech at Wilberforce university, the Ohio college for negroes which receives financial support from the state, is the most recent political event of general interest in Ohio. He discussed the Brownsville affair freely and fearlessly, and on the subject of elimination said:

"I read in the morning papers that I am to be eliminated from politics. If I am to be eliminated because I stand by my friends of the colored race, then I gladly welcome extermination and will return to Ohio to spend the remainder of my days conscious of a duty well and conscientiously performed."

From Xenia Mr. Foraker came to Columbus, remained over night to see some of his political friends, and went to Put-In-Bay, where he addressed a convention Friday of railway freight agents on the railway rate law.

Senator Foraker will spend the summer in Ohio, will have some speaking engagements in different parts of the state, and after the municipal elections in November will return to Washington for the session of congress beginning in December.

W. O. THOMPSON, President Ohio State University.

Senator Dick also returned to his home in Akron and will spend the summer in Ohio.

Former Governor Myron T. Herrick, it appears, wants to be one of the Ohio Big Four to the National Republican convention, providing the Taft people control the state convention next year and name the four delegates-at-large.

Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland has been on all states that have been made up as the representative from northern Ohio. Herrick is the national committeeman from Ohio, succeeding George B. Cox by appointment when the latter retired, and is understood to desire re-election to that position.

Governor Pattison died June 18, 1906, and Governor Harris, who succeeded to the executive office at his death, has therefore just finished his first year in the governor's chair. Governor Pattison had been elected for three years under the biennial election amendment to the constitution, so that Governor Harris has a year and a half of that term to serve.

A meeting of the Association of Ohio Dailies will be held at Cedar Point June 28-29. E. M. Fullington, deputy auditor of state, will submit to the association a revised form of the commissioners' report, which in years back has given so much dissatisfaction to the Ohio dailies. An invitation has been extended to one of the assistant postmasters general to talk with the association upon the postal laws regulating the transmission of newspapers. John T. Mack of Sandusky is president of the association. Arrangements are being made to royally entertain all who attend.

Whether college and other school curriculums are too heavy for the average student will be threshed out at the meeting of the Ohio Teachers' association, to be held next week at the Hotel Victory at Put-In-Bay. It is the contention of many educators that there is too much speed in the course of study laid down for the juvenile mind, and too many of the children scarcely know what they are supposed to attempt in the usual course of study. Prominent educators are to take part in the debate representing both sides thereto.

Copies of the report of the school revenue commission to the Ohio State Teachers' association were given out by State School Commissioner E. A. Jones. The executive committee of the teachers' association was instructed to set apart one whole half day's session for the discussion of the report at the coming state meeting. The report contains an historical presentation of school tax legislation in Ohio by Commissioner E. A. Jones. President Thompson of the State university treats of revenues actual and possible in Ohio; Representative Shankland of Lake county deals with the subject of franchise and corporation taxes, and Henry D. Williams, dean of the State Normal school at Athens, reports on the collection and distribution of school revenues. Dean Williams shows that the state is not raising the revenue for her schools that she should, and that the system of distribution of what she does raise is far from equitable. Superintendent E. B. Cox of Xenia was assigned the subject of school lands, but could not find facts on which to base an intelligent report, so none is presented.

Trustees of the state's industrial school at Delaware for girls received an opinion from Attorney General Ellis to the effect that under the law a resident of the county in which the institution is located—Delaware—can not be elected to the position of financial officer. The superintendent of the institution has always acted as purchasing agent for it, and a Delaware man was given the position of financial officer, his duties consisting merely of keeping record of the financial transactions. For this service he was paid $300 a year. His recent death raised the question of the legality of his election. The trustees elected to the vacancy A. W. McKenzie, in which State Auditor Guilbert is interested. McKenzie will receive $300 per year, the same as his predecessor.

The Nickel Plate was the first of the railroads of the state to file the new service rules of the state railroad commission since the amended order went into effect. The commission will take steps to enforce the order, putting the rules into effect Aug. 1, and the full penalty will be enforced against any railroad which fails to file the rules on time. In this the commission will be backed by the Ohio Shippers' association, and the full power of that organization will be behind the commission. It is believed that the new rules will go into effect on all roads Aug. 1, and that there will be no conflict with the interstate commerce commission, although the state railroad commission will insist that it has sole jurisdiction over car service in this state, contending that it is a local and not an interstate question.

General John C. Speaks, chief game warden, in his plan of reorganizing the game warden situation, hopes to establish in each town or city from where the deputy wardens work a sort of advisory board, with which the deputy wardens may consult on momentous questions. According to General Speaks he has consulted with a number of prominent people throughout the state, and they have agreed to act in this capacity if requested. General Speaks expects to use the pruning knife on the present list of deputies, and lop off all who have not come up to requirements.

Quasi public service corporations which the Cole requires to pay an annual tax of 1 per cent on their gross earnings, are filing reports with the auditor of state. They have until June 31 to do this. The state board of appraisers and assessors go over the reports in October and fix the amount each corporation is to pay the state and the collections are made in November and December. Last year this law yielded the state more than $2,000,000, and this year the sum will in all likelihood exceed that amount.

Colonel E. T. Miller of the adjutant general's office went to Camp Perry to prepare it for the coming of the First regiment of the Ohio National Guard, ordered into camp Sunday for one week. The Fourth regiment, with headquarters in Columbus, under Colonel C. S. Ammel, will camp the week of July 21. All of the Ohio regiments will camp there with the exception of the Second, which will take an outing to the Jamestown exposition.

Among numerous suggestions made for provision of the primary election bill being framed is one that one of the registration days in cities having registration be selected for the time of holding primary elections of all parties under the auspices of the local board of elections. It is believed a larger number of business men will attend the primaries and turn out for registration if both matters may be attended to at the same time.

Word comes from Lima that Walter B. Ritchie will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor next year. Ritchie is for Harmon for president. He is also one of the most prominent Knights of Pythias, having been chancellor of the supreme lodge. Few men have been mentioned oftener for high offices than Ritchie.

W. T. Blake, mayor of East Liverpool, and a former member of the state senate, is going to Liverpool, England, to attend the seven hundredth anniversary of that city. He was born there. The chief official of every Liverpool in the world is invited. Ohio contains the only Liverpool in the United States.

Colonel J. Linn Rogers, who was Governor Bushnell's private secretary, spent a few days at his home in Columbus en route from Shanghai, where he was consul general, to Havana, to become consul general in Cuba.

J. W. Guthrie, for the past 14 years principal of the Alliance schools, has assumed his position of statistical clerk in the office of School Commissioner Jones, succeeding King Thompson, who resigned some time ago.

The supreme court reappointed E. Howard Gilkey law librarian for the term of one year. Mr. Gilkey gets a salary of $2,500 and his assistant, Mr. Morrow, a salary of $1,200.

CHAMPAGNE VELVET

THE BEST BOTTLED BEER

Champagne Velvet is the best bottled beer because it is the embodiment of all that is good in beer. It is a harbinger of good cheer and a promoter of health. It is the best antidote that is known for the "blues".

Suppose you verify these statements for yourself—as thousands of others have verified them in the past—as thousands are verifying them every week—by insisting on Champagne Velvet the next time you order a bottle of beer. And, while you are about it, do not forget to order a case for your home. It is "up to you" to get the best.

CROWD WATCHING REMOVAL OF SACRED PARCHEMENT FROM SYNAGOGUE

New York, June 22.—For the first time in the United States the ancient Jewish rite of holding funeral parchments was witnessed at the Zichron Toras Moses Synagogue last week.

Four rabbis and as many Hebrews as could crowd into the small synagogue took part in the impressive ceremonies. It was an occasion of much solemnity. There were the pieces of 18 parchments over which services were held. Originally they belonged to the 18 congregations, worshipping in New Irving Hall, but when that place burned about a year ago it was supposed the scrolls were destroyed. Recently workmen in removing the ruins came upon pieces of the ancient parchments. Members of the various synagogues were notified and nearly one hundred charred remnants of varying sizes were recovered.

Badly Mixed Up.

Agraham Brown, of Winterton, N. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed to cure blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by F. D. Hall, druggist, 50c.

FASHIONABLE SOCIETY STIRRED BY ELOPEMENT

White Plains, June 22.—Not in years has anything caused so much comment among the fashionable set in Westchester county as the elopement of Miss Sadella McCandless, daughter of David McCandless, a trustee of this city, and Wilbur E. Miles, a young athlete, also a resident here. The elopement was the last act of the prettiest little romance in the history of Westchester county.

The wedding of the young couple proves again the old-time adage that "music hath charms," for it was through his piano playing that young Miles succeeded in winning the heart of the most popular young woman in White Plains. It was at a church social that Miss McCandless first heard her husband play. She was enraptured, and after the affair was over the pair were introduced by a mutual friend.

UNCLE JOE THE STORY TELLER.

He Talks to the Children About the Bee Cities.

Places in Which Dwell Thousands of Inhabitants, Every One of Which Obeys Strictly the Most Rigid Laws.

"DID you ever go and see the 'Bee Boy' you told us about last time?" asked Elsie of Uncle Joe, the Story Teller. "You know, that Bill Bradley, who promised to show and tell you a whole lot about bees?"

"Yes," answered Uncle Joe. "And I was well rewarded for my time, for Bill had saved up enough money to purchase a Spanish queen bee and had already hived and swarmed her, and was well started on the road to prosperity. For, little old Bill Bradley is now one of the most successful apiarists of the country and probably one of the largest shippers of honey to market."

"What about his queen bee?" broke in Elsie.

"Well," said Uncle Joe, "if you want to know about it, I'll tell you. And this is:

Uncle Joe's Story of the Queen Bee.
"It was several weeks before I got over to Bill's, and in the meantime he had taken the honey from the wild hive we had located. With the proceeds of that, combined with what he had saved up before, he had sent for a Spanish queen bee. Of course, you know, he didn't have to send all the way to Spain. Spanish bees are common in America, and their purity of breeding strain is preserved in all its straightness, the same as Belgian

"Even his father didn't know about it. Nobody knew about it but Bill and the postmaster. Uncle Sam likes honey, and to further the industry of bee culture and honey making, rates the queen bee as an exception to the general rule that nothing alive may be forwarded through the mails."

"Bill had built his own hive, 'Spanish like,' he said, 'so she would feel at home,' and had taken it to the woods. From that and subsequent visits to the location of Bill's first business enterprise and from further investigation on his own part, your Uncle Joe presumes to tell you the following, what he hopes will prove interesting, facts concerning bees:

"A bee hive is a city in itself and may contain from twenty thousand to sixty thousand inhabitants. A single queen rules over all. In this city each citizen follows the laws, going out when it is time to go out, coming home at proper hours, and staying at home when it is his or her duty. In the winter time, having no fires to warm them, the bees cling together in a bunch, just the same as children cuddle."

"One might suppose, just because one single queen rules over so many, having so many subjects to work for her and wait upon her, she would do nothing but amuse herself. On the contrary, she, too, obeys the laws laid down for her guidance, and never, except on one or two state occasions, goes out of the city, but works as hard as the rest in performing her own royal duties."

"The gates of the bee city, or hive, are so narrow that two inhabitants can only just pass each other on their way through them, yet thousands go in and out every hour of the day; some bringing materials to build new houses, others food and provisions to store up for the winter; and while all appears confusion and disorder among this rapidly moving throng, yet in reality each has its own work to do, and perfect order reigns over the whole."

"Bees prefer to work in the dark. They are gifted with double sight, one for the bright glare of noonday sun and the other for their own hive's gloom; their eyes accommodate adjusting to serve the purposes of the task upon which they are engaged."

"Francis Huber, a blind naturalist, was the first to discover many interesting facts concerning bees. Huber had started on the study of the tollers in sweets when his sight failed. He had others construct an inner glass hive with an outer common covering which could be lifted at will. When the covering was lifted he was told of what the bees inside were doing. Glass slides, such as are employed in some modern hives, hinder rather than help bee culture. Bees object to too much light being cast on their private doings, and will quit a hive if too frequently disturbed."

"Take a May morning, about 10 o'clock; go into the apple orchard of a farm whereon bees are cared for, and if you are fortunate enough to find a swarm you will see a black object which looks very much like a large plum pudding very likely hanging from the limb of an old apple tree. In swarming bees cling to each other by their legs; each bee with its two fore-legs clinging to the two hinder-legs of the one above it. In this way as many as 20,000 bees may be clinging together, and yet they hang so freely that a bee, even from quite the center of the swarm, can disengage herself from her neighbors and pass through to the outside of the cluster whenever she wishes."

"If these bees were left to themselves, they would find a home after a time in a hollow tree, or under the roof of a house, or in some other cavity, and begin to build their honey comb there. But not wishing to lose their honey we will bring a hive, and holding it under the swarm, shake the bough gently so that the bees will fall into it, and cling to the sides as we turn it over on a piece of clean linen, on the stand where the hive is to be."

"Before five minutes are over the bees have begun to disperse and to make arrangements in their new home. The drones, or male bees, which are larger and of a darker color than the rest, do no work, depending on the others to wait on them and feed them. The queen bee is blackest of all, and has a longer body and shorter wings. She is the mother of the hive and often lays as high as two hundred eggs a day in the wax cells which the worker bees have built for that purpose."

"The wax cells of the honey comb are constructed of material made by the worker bee itself. This bee has eight little wax pockets under her abdomen, which fill up through a process of digestion in the bee's second stomach, for when the bee sucks the honey drop from the flower it is drawn into a first stomach, or honey-bag, to be emptied later on into the wax cells in the hive prepared for its reception. So, when a bee wants to make wax it hangs quietly for twenty-four hours, and in that time the contents of the honey bag are absorbed and digested by the bee's second stomach and pass into the eight little pockets in the form of wax."

"As fast as the eggs are deposited in the cells prepared for them they are taken in charge by what are called the nursing bees. In two or three days each egg has become a tiny maggot or larva, and the nursing bees put into its cell a mixture of pollen and honey which they have prepared in their own mouths, thus making a kind of sweet bath in which the larva lies. In five or six days the larva grows so fat upon this that it nearly fills up the cell, and then the bees seal up the mouth of the cell with a thin cover of wax, made of little rings with a tiny hole in the center. The larva then begins to spin

"As soon as the larva is covered in it begins to give out from its underlip a whitish, silken film, made of two threads of silk glued together, and with this it spins a covering or cocoon all round itself, and so it remains for about ten days more. At last, just twenty-one days after the egg was laid, the young bee is quite perfect, and begins to eat her way through the cocoon and waxen lid, and scrambles out of her cell. After twenty-four hours attention from the nursing bee she is ready to go to work with the rest."

"After all the worker-eggs are laid the queen bee begins to lay, in some rather larger cells, eggs from which drones, or male bees, will grow up in about twenty days. Meanwhile the worker bees have been building on the sides of the combs some very curious cells which look like thin-bellies hanging with the open side upwards, and about every three days the queen stops to lay a drone-egg, and goes to put an egg in one of these cells. These drone-eggs are laid in queens, and the intervals between their laying are to insure corresponding intervals in their hatching, for but one queen bee may be in one hive. Just before the first princess is born the old queen mother flies away with all of those subjects which wish to accompany, and establishes a new home or hive. Just before the second princess is born the new ruler flies away in the same manner. Several other swarms may leave the hive, but when there are no more bees desirous of leaving, the remaining young princesses are stung to death in their cells by the latest queen. And it is not long after until the drones are put to death by the workers, for their day of usefulness is over. Drones have no stings and cannot defend themselves."

"Only the young bees, born late in the season, live on till the next year to work in the spring. The queen bee, however, lives on for several years, and then she, too, dies. The hive is then left to the workers, who will build a new one if they wish."

MUSIC TEACHERS AT GRANVILLE

Bring Convention to Brilliant Close—Record Attendance—Teachers All Well Pleased.

Granville, O., June 22—The banquet of Thursday evening was a brilliant success, 75 teachers and their friends sitting down to the tables. There were many toasts and the evening was spent in solid enjoyment, after the rather strenuous program of the day.

Friday's program opened with a spirited discussion of the relative value of the music school as connected with the college, the university and as an independent institution. Following came two very good papers on the subject of pianoforte playing and education by Miss Farrar of Granville and Mr. Mills of Toledo; these proved to be of much interest and help to the piano teachers present.

The paper and program of Mr. Harper of New York was planned on somewhat unusual lines and was greeted with enthusiastic applause by the audience. This popular singer was never in better voice and did full justice to his program. Of the afternoon concert, Mr. Richards was the star, and seldom has a pianist of such attainments been heard in Granville. His work was absolutely beyond criticism and pleased both public and teachers. Mrs. Weber of Cincinnati is a remarkable violinist, and though ill, played in a very satisfactory manner. The presence of Mr. Saar, the composer, lent added interest to the performance.

The best concert of the whole convention occurred in the evening and was given by the Philharmonic string quartet of Cleveland, and Mrs. Wellman, pianiste. This is the fifth appearance of this organization in Granville and it has been engaged for an appearance next year. They are perhaps the second best quartet in America.

Mr. Judson is to be congratulated on the splendid success, both financial and artistic, which attended this convention. The attendance showed a substantial gain and the programs were of a higher standard. Favorable comment is heard on all sides in regard to the great advantage this convention was to Granville, and the amount of advertising it has given the college. The next convention will be held in Toledo and the officers are—Chas. Jacobus, Delaware, president;

C. W. Morrison, Oberlin, vice president; F. E. Percival, Toledo, chairman of the executive committee.

NEWSY LETTER FROM MR. DORSEY

WHO WRITES HIS FATHER OF
ITINERARY IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE.

Went Through the Dismal Swamp in Virginia in Prosecuting His Important Work.

Mr. E. J. Dorsey of Granville, has just received an interesting letter from his son Will, who holds an important position in the department of agriculture at Washington. Will was sent out by his department to report on the extent and character of swamp and overflowed lands in the south Atlantic states and their crop value when reclaimed.

First, he visited the historical Dismal Swamp, just south of Norfolk, Va. He mentions, in particular, one fine farm of 500 acres that was reclaimed many years ago in the very heart of the swamp. This class of swamp land when drained makes the finest kind of corn land and their crop is grown year after year without any fertilizer or manure, fields of 60 and 80 bushes being secured.

Farther south in the Dismal Swamp, both in Virginia and North Carolina, he found many Ohio people who have bought large tracts of swamp land. They are now cutting the valuable timber growth of cypress, white cedar, pine and gum, and will later drain the land and colonize with northern people.

In eastern North Carolina Mr. Wilkinson, vice president of the Raper Lumber company, that owns 600,000 acres, took him in his large touring car to visit the famous alligator swamp in Hyde county, that was reclaimed more than one hundred years ago. Hyde county has no railroad and is very inaccessible and the people quite primitive, but the reclaimed black swamp soils would make the best Ohio corn grower envious. One farm visited contains 2,000 acres, has been farmed every year for 150 years and still produces fine crops of white horse tooth corn that is exported to Germany. You simply can't wear such soil out and many say the longer they are farmed the better they are.

North Carolina contains many similar extensive tracts of swamp lands. Will reports, that they only need draining to make generations of farmers rich.

These swamps are nearly all many feet above sea level and the drainage can be accomplished far easier and cheaper than in the level lands in the northern and western part of Ohio.

Farther south in the Carolinas and Georgia occur large bodies of rich river swamp lands that must be protected from overflow during freshets. Where the tides come up the river these rich lands are used for rice. The rice planter has ingeniously constructed levees to hold out the tides especially when storms back the salt water many miles up stream. Salt water soon kills the rice, so the crop can only be irrigated by flooding at high tide when the water is fresh. To plant, cultivate and harvest the crop the land must be dry and so a drainage system has been planned that allows the planter to draw off the water at low tide. Will writes that a large quantity of rice is still grown at Georgetown, Charleston, S. C., and about Savannah and Brunswick, Ga. Some of the old rice plantations are very large and in the antebellum days had upwards of 1000 hands. Rice planting is still considered very aristocratic and it is a treat to be entertained at the comfortable home of one of the wealthy planters.

Florida has 30,000 square miles that need to be drained before farming can be carried on. Of course the largest single body of swamp lands in the state, in fact the largest swamp in the country, is in southern Florida and is called the Everglades. Will went up the Caloosahatchie river in a launch on the west coast to get into the Everglades, and also visited the two dredges at work at Ft. Lauderdale on the east coast, where Gov. Broward has started to drain the entire body of Everglades. Will secured many fine pictures of the vast stretches of saw grass and maiden cane that characterize the glades and also took pictures of the dredges cutting away the barrier of coral rock that really causes the formation of this vast swamp.

The Florida East Coast railway is also doing valuable reclamation work at Cutler, Miami, West Palm Beach and at Ft. Pierce. The drained swamp lands produce fine crops of tomatoes that bring fancy prices in February and March in northern cities, and such lands sometimes rent for $75 an acre, while a grower frequently nets upwards of $200 an acre.

Will writes that draining of the swamp lands in Florida and the other states he visited offers a fine opportunity for investment and says he was glad to find so many Ohio people taking advantage of this opportunity at so many different points.

NEW YORK, June 22.—These days of high rents, ruinous food prices and stationary salaries would seem to intensify the sympathies between the overburdened New Yorker and his friend the dog. Judging from the increasing dog emporiums and the thriving appearance of their proprietors, whether or not the average citizen feels that a dog's unselfish greeting is an additional solatium for the piling up of his daily expenses, the fact remains that men, women and children are becoming dogster every day.

CORRY M. STADDEN WINS HONOR PRIZE

FORMER NEWARK MAN TAKES HIGHEST RANK IN THREE YEAR LAW COURSE.

Will Continue to Act as Washington
Correspondent of the New Orleans
Picayune.

For the past three years Corry M. Stadden, a former well known Newark and Columbus newspaper man, has been studying law at George Washington university, at the same time doing the work of Washington correspondent of the New Orleans Picayune.

Now comes the splendid news from the National Capital that Mr. Stadden has won the first honor prize for highest rank throughout the three years course.

This is not surprising to the intimate friends of Mr. Stadden, as they know of his ability to grasp a proposition and his tireless energy. Back in 1889, Corry M. Stadden took first rank in the Newark High school graduating class and was entitled because of his high grades to free scholarship at Denison university, but he decided to go into newspaper work in which he made a success both here and in Columbus. For about thirteen years Mr. Stadden has been in Washington doing good work for the New York Journal and other newspapers, but for several years he has confined his attention principally to the New Orleans Picayune. For a long time he was officially connected with the Nicaraguan legation at Washington.

It is Mr. Stadden's intention to continue his newspaper correspondence while establishing himself in a law practice. It is probable that he will come to Newark soon to visit his father, Col. Geo. W. Stadden for a short time, and when he comes Mr. Stadden will be showered with congratulations for the splendid record he has made as a law student.
